"At approximately 15:40 a D3 avalanche on the Gardiner headwall broke. It was triggered by a snowboarder and his dog. The run had already been tracked by skis and snow machines but the trigger point was slightly farther skier right and appeared to trigger a convex wind slab. Several skiers, boarders, and riders were in the area but there were no burials or injuries." Photo: C. Cavill

Advisory Region
Cooke City
Avalanche Details: Large skier triggered avalanche on Gardiner headwall
Cooke City, 2024-06-04