From Obs: "Big whumf a cracking on south east slope 8000 feet elevation. sub 25 degrees angle. Super loud and scary when it fractured. Broke to the ground. Small crown up higher on same slope." Photo: A. Kaugman

Advisory Region
Southern Gallatin
Longitude
-111.05W
Latitude

45.03N
Avalanche Details: Collapses and small remote triggered avalanche specimen crk
Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Forecast for Sun Feb 7, 2021
Southern Gallatin, 2021-02-06