

On 2/9/20 we saw deep avalanche crowns throughout the Bridger Range. These broke at various times throughout the recent storm that deposited 4 feet of snow with over 4" of SWE in the last week. This photo shows crowns from avalanches that broke across the entire drainage of Truman Gulch. Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region
Bridger Range
Longitude
-110.93W

Latitude

45.81N

Avalanche Details: Truman Gulch Natural Deep Slabs
Bridger Range, 2020-02-09