Toured up Republic Creek today. Went to the ridge below Republic Mountain and then to Woody Ridge.

winds picked up throughout the day and by afternoon were moderate gusting to strong at treeline and ridge tops from the W,SW.

started lightly snowing around 1 pm.

observed 2 crowns in wind loaded terrain. One at the end of Woody ridge on a north facing sub ridge (Peterson's prow) and the other on an East facing Ridge seen from the top of Wyoming bowl.
