Activity
Snowmobiling

The Snow Ranger crew was out on Buck Ridge today. We did not see any new slides around Beaver Creek, 1st Yellowmule, or Slatts Hill/ upper Buck Creek. It began snowing before we made it to the McAtee/ 3rd Yellowmule area but from what we could see, it looked like the N/NE faces in McAtee that slid just over a week ago had avalanched again, nearly to the ground. There were slightly dirty looking debris piles mid slope and several prominant crowns just below the ridge top but it was hard to make out details through the light snow, even with binoculars.
