

This snowpit in the Cabin Creek area of the Southern Madison Range has a total snowpack depth of almost 4 feet. The bottom 2 feet is all weak, sugary facets and the upper 2 feet is a slab. See the complete snow profile graph here. Photo: B. Radecky

Advisory Region Southern Madison

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Advisory for Sat Jan 14, 2012GNFAC Avalanche Advisory for Tue Jan 17, 2012

Southern Madison, 2012-01-14