

Lots of wind transport filling in the skin track between laps and creating light reactive slabs ~5" deep in places (see photo) primarily out of the west but generally inconsistent in direction. Photo: E Kiesz

Advisory Region
Northern Gallatin
Longitude
-111.00W
Latitude

45.45N

Northern Gallatin, 2025-02-02