

Two events occurred on this slope at Lionhead. Wednesday morning this slope produced a sizeable avalanche that ran well beyond the view of the camera. The avalanche broke in older snow over rock bands but was confined to snow from recent storms on other parts of the slope where the snowpack was deeper and stronger. On Thursday very large cornices broke and tumbled down the slope. Photo: GNFAAC

Advisory Region
Lionhead Range
Longitude

-111.31W

Latitude

44.71N

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Advisory for Sat Apr 2, 2011

Lionhead Range, 2011-04-01