

Faceted snow near the ground was the obvious weak layer in this avalanche. The crown was 1-3 feet deep and propagated 150 yards wide. The slide either failed naturally or was triggered from low on the slope. Photo GNFAC

Advisory Region
Northern Gallatin

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Advisory for Fri Jan 3, 2014

