

This avalanche broke on small facets that formed at the snow surface before the recent snows. This small hill is very steep ( $>45$  degrees) and wind-loaded. It was triggered by a dog. The main trail is about 50 feet uphill of the crown. Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region
Northern Madison

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Advisory for Tue Dec 23, 2014

